

Get big enterprise function and value in a solution tailored to the small and medium sized business.

We offer business-class email services based on Microsoft technology to help your business communicate and compete in the marketplace more efficiently and effectively.

Along with rich client functionality provided by Microsoft Outlook and a secure hosting infrastructure provided by our state of the art data centre, business-class email is designed for companies and individuals that want:

- To Get More Done – Find a better way to share critical information with co-workers
- Peace of Mind – Allow experts to manage systems and security while you focus on your core business
- Anywhere access to critical files, contacts, e-mail and events from mobile devices or any Internet connection
- High reliability and outstanding performance.

If your business needs professional email capability, but doesn't want the hassle, a hosted Microsoft Exchange Solution from Wizzoo will allow you to access information from anywhere and stay connected to both your customers and business colleagues.

Peace of Mind

Peace of Mind

E-mail has become a critical business tool. Research indicates up to 70% of business data resides in email. The temporary or permanent loss of email, not to mention corporate contacts, files and calendar information, can translate into lost revenue, lost customers and the inability to conduct day-to-day business.

Wizzoo business-class email includes a backup of your email, calendar items, business contacts and shared files and folders. Basic or 'free' services often backup infrequently, and once you've downloaded an email to your laptop it is 'lost' from the server and cannot be recovered regardless of backups. Don't take the risk.

Get More Done

Too often, critical business documents are swapped around in email. Controlling versions and protecting the 'master' copy can be a nightmare. Employees never know which version to work from, and if they don't have their laptop or PC in front of them, they can't access the latest document.

Wizzoo business-class email includes shared folders that can be accessed from any Internet connection, providing a complete document management capability such that employees are always working off the same page.

Anywhere Access

Employees are increasingly mobile, working from the office, at home, at client sites and on the road. Carrying a laptop around town just to access critical business files is a challenge, and not having access to this information can be disastrous when you have an urgent business need.

Business-class email includes support for access from Smart Phones, Pocket PC or any Internet-connected PC; including access to email, calendars, contacts, and shared folders with critical business files. Never miss a business opportunity!

Low Cost

Hosted Microsoft Exchange E-Mail accounts are available from WIZZOO for ONLY £10.00 per month (£120.00 per year charge) for each e-mail account. All prices include VAT where applicable.

Request your Exchange account now and we'll give you 2 Months FREE and a free fully licensed copy of Microsoft Outlook 2007 to get you up and running straight away!
